SUMMARY

I am an AI/LLM Engineer based in Nairobi Kenya with a strong background in software engineering, specializing in building responsive web applications and seamlessly integrating impactful AI solutions into both modern and legacy systems. I design and implement advanced AI-Powered solutions through RAG techniques and fine-tuning, leveraging Agentic AI and MCP (Model Context Protocol) technologies to enhance business processes, automate repetitive tasks, and improve operational efficiency. My expertise spans diverse domains like; machine learning, deep learning, natural language processing, workflow automation, and technical integration, enabling me to develop tailored AI solutions that address complex business challenges. Notably, I am a highly skilled typist, averaging speeds of 120+ WPM, which allows me to excel under pressure and consistently meet tight deadlines without compromising quality. I am an eloquent English and French Speaker with exceptional communication skills. Additionally, I collaborate effectively using GitHub to manage projects and deliver high-impact results. Feel free to explore my GitHub to view some of my recent projects: GitHub Link.
